

Join UMass Lowell Labor Education & the Merrimack Valley Central Labor Council

“WE ARE ALL FAST-FOOD WORKERS

THE GLOBAL UPRISING
AGAINST POVERTY WAGES

NOW”

"A NEW GLOBAL LABOR MOVEMENT IS AWAKENING."

So writes historian Dr. Annelise Orleck in her most recent book, in which she tells the stories of activists in low-wage fields. From Walmart workers to farmers, from the textile factories of Bangladesh to McDonalds' around the world, workers are coming together to challenge the iniquities of a globalized economy.

Join the Merrimack Valley Central Labor Council and the UMass Lowell Labor Education Program as we welcome Dr. Orleck to Lowell. The evening will include a light dinner and discussion with respondents from the local labor movement, a UML adjunct leader (UAW 1596) and an Aramark worker (NEJB Unite Here)

Copies of the book will be available for purchase and signing.

Thursday, Sept. 20

6:00 - 7:30pm

Remarks from Dr. Annelise Orleck
Light dinner and discussion

Where: UTL/MVCLC Office
169 Merrimack St,
4th floor, Lowell, MA

Sponsors: UML Labor Education Program, Merrimack Valley CLC, GRACE/MTA, NEJB Unite Here, SEIU Local 888

FOR MORE INFORMATION, CONTACT: ELIZABETH_PELLERITO@UML.EDU OR 978-934-3137 .